General Brussiloff Reported Stopped For Time Being By German Commanders On Stokhod River: Italians Are Advancing

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.) ONDON, July 13 .- The fighting at all fronts in Europe has blackened temporarily, apparently in prepa ration for another tremendous assault by the Allies as soon as they can replenish their store of high explosive shells and consolidate their present

The Germans are busy preparing for the coming storm and everywhere are reported to be sending reinforcements to the fronts menaced by the Allies, and hastening supplies, munitions and men to selected points where they will be available for use when wanted.

There was some fighting in the sec tors north of the Biver Somme yesterday. There the battle has been obbing and flowing for the last two or three days in some sections. Mametz woods, to the northeast of the little town of the same name, which was taken by the British the first day of the present offensive, has been the scene of some of the most desperate fighting on this part of the line. Monday the Ger nans counter-attacked and succeeded ir gaining a footbold on the outskirts of the woods, from which they had been driven but a short time previously by the British colonial troops. Germans Driven Out.

But they did not hold their advan tage long, according to the British official reports last night. The colonial troops, under orders from the cam-mander in chief, Sir Douglas Haig, and preceded by a tremendous artillery fire, launched attack after attack vester-The Germans were driven back to their trenches, the wood cleared for the second time, and slight additional gains made by the assailants.

At Containnison there was some des-perate fighting. The British troops had been consolidating their gains at that front, and appeared to be content to hold the ground they had won in the last ten days. The Germans, however, seemed determined to wrest the village from their conquerors, and launched series of desperate assaults against the British lines. All attacks, however, proved in vain, and the British have reported full possession of all ground

British Make Fresh Gains

In the vicinity of the Trone woods where the battling has been so terrifie for more than a week, the British having cleared the Germans from the bois, succeeded in making other and fresh gains yesterday, by a surprise attack which resulted in tremendous losses to the Germans, according to the British official reports.

The machine guns of both armies are playing a conspicuous part in the fighting. The British and Germans both have them in huge numbers, and they are everywhere in the attack, to beat back the enemy and with the advancing troops to help consolidate the

The British also are making more and more of their new trench mortar, an invention of a civil engineer in the employ of the government in Egypt which is proving one of the most ef-ficient weapons developed by the war

All reports of those engaged in the fighting agree that barbed wire entanglements, however strong, have invariably been well cut, and there is universal praise for the new mortar.

But frequently the deep German dugouts, instead of being rallying points, become traps, with the occueither surrendering or being blown up by bombs thrown into the entrance when they pefuse to sur-Gumers Work To Exhaustion
